Ears of many public men must have "burned" consistently throughout the dinner. If there be truth in the super-stition that persons talking "behind one's back" noticeably increase the temperature of the hearing apparatus of the one talked about them a fow at least must have thought themselves literally near Vesurving crater on one of the volcano's business nights.

Pursuit of Pilipine.

Taken in the Philippine Islands the film showed a three-year pursuit of a Filipine colonel of the army and a small detachment. Hardly has the Filipine colonel of the army and a small detachment. Hardly has the Filipine been apprehended when he is made governor of the particular province in which the spissole happened. Diaguat is written large on the face of the colonel as he turns ever to the insurrecto he has been so long pursuing supreme cummand of that particular district. By this tilm, just as in last year's indical "Highine beclaration of Independence," the Caratano showed their indical of ympathy for rocent developments and tendencies in Philippine government. The same note was sounded in the closing number of the program, when "Mayon Volcano," member of the Philippine assembly, arrived in a 1944 model of a sembly, arrived in a 1944 model of a Philippine of the program, when "Anyon the "arrived in Warhington to see Hon. Mrs. Hankburst burst into a voluble flow of oratory on woman's rights. She had not preceeded very far when the Bombinero cut in and interrupted, which was followed by a raucous din from some of the diners. Mrs. Bankburst got the floor again and announced that if they would not let her talk she would at any rate sings a song, and then began to trill the melodious strains of "That Rag Time Suffragette."

More music followed. In chorus were given. "We Are Carabaca," and "Manchu Soldier Man." Next came a parody of that ancient ballad, "Cynthia, Cyuthis, I've Been Thinking," entitled "The Political Review."

Secretary of State Bryan in a formal announcement last evening whitewashed Minister J. M. Sullivan, of Santo Domingo, on the charge that a relative of the minister, through the minister's influence obtained a position under the Domincan government. Mr. Bryan declared that criticism of the minister was unjust and would be given no weight.

Mr. Bryan said: "Minister Sullivan informs ine, without invitation from him, a digitant relative by the name of Timothy J. Sullivan west to Santo Domingo shortly after the appointment of Minister Sullivan.
